The ultimate gin for the shooting season

FOXDETON ESTATE GIN offer the perfect flask fillers to kick off the Glorious Twelfth, from traditional sloe and damson gin to rhubarb and raspberry. Make sure you're starting the season the right way with their sumptuous sloe gin. Stronger, paler and drier than your average sloe gin, it is full of juniper on the nose, which gives way to plum sweetness before a long, crisp finish. All it needs is a hipflask and the great outdoors! Foxdenton's recently redesigned bottles take cues from their British heritage, with a contemporary twist and of course - the same great, award-winning gin with a strong but incredibly smooth taste.

While Foxdenton may be sporting a new look, they're still offering a popular bespoke service for any upcoming occasion, including shoots.

An artist like no other

CLARE BROWNLOW first picked up a pheasant feather at her parents home in 2009. After dipping it in fountain pen ink, she started doodling. By using pheasant tail feathers like a quill pen and ink, Clare has learnt to create stunning pictures of wildlife from around the world. The nib of the feather has some flex, and when used on water colour paper it creates her iconic directional splatter, generating life and movement in her subjects.

Offering her services in original art, limited edition prints, stationery, commissions and interiors, Clare's unique way of painting means she is well known globally, has been shortlisted twice for Wildlife Artist of The Year, as well as donating works to various wildlife charities, including Tusk Trust, Born Free Foundation and GWCT.

Get ready for The Glorious Twelfth with specialist shooting insurance

IT'S REMARKABLE to think that whilst it's a legal requirement to insure yourself when you drive a car, it's not when you own a gun. That said, the majority of gun owners would recommend you have insurance. And many estates now require proof before allowing you to take part in a shoot.

Happily, shooting insurance is cost-effective and simple to set up, making it one of the easiest items to tick off your checklist.

Your top priority should be public liability cover. Gunplan offer £10m public liability for just £22 a year. And it comes with a proof of insurance card to show the venue.

Other cover options can be added if you need them, including equipment cover, legal protection and personal accident.

Gunplan have an exclusive Glorious Twelfth discount now running. Save 12% off any quote using the link:

Join the UK's largest shooting organisation

AUGUST 13TH MARKS the start of The Glorious Twelfth this year, an iconic day where shooters from all over the world head to the moors of Scotland and northern England.

For grouse shooting fans, there's never been a better time to join The British Association for Shooting & Conservation (BASC), who aim to promote high sportsmanship, safety and courtesy within the shooting community. In becoming a member, you will be doing your bit to help support BASC's work by protecting the sport and the natural environment.

Grouse shooting in England, Wales and Scotland supports the equivalent of over 2,500 full-time jobs, with an estimated annual value of almost £100 million.

Become one of the team at BASC and receive a wealth of benefits, including discounts on cars, shooting grounds and gunshops, as well as gun and rifle insurance.

Visit basc.org.uk for more information and to join.

Achieve a lasting legacy with your own land

RICHBOROUGH ESTATES is an established land promotion company that works hand in hand with landowners to satisfy the urgent need for new homes.

Richborough's experienced team of planners has a success rate of more than 90% in securing planning consents, with 80 currently active sites that could deliver more than 20,000 homes.

Working at its own cost, Richborough is remunerated when the site is sold to a developer, delivering positive results at no risk to the original landowner.

A typical project involves proposals for 150 - 300 dwellings on a greenfield or brownfield site over a 30 month period. However, Richborough also manages larger urban extensions in the green belt over longer timescales.

Richborough considers the associated infrastructure needs and fully understands the benefits that housing can bring to a community. It also aims to dispel the myths of the role of land promoters and enhance the current debate around housing supply.

Work with Richborough to unlock the value of your land and create a lasting legacy for you and your family

Time to bite the bullet

THINKING ABOUT A NEW GUN for next season? Incredible as it may seem, for the cost of an off-the-shelf imported gun, innovative English gunmakers Longthorne offer the complete bespoke package, manufactured and built at their Northampton factory. The company offers fabulous engravings and classic English shotgun designs, including the latest Nouveau model.

These exquisite shot-guns are all magnum, steel-proofed, and have patented barrel technology, ensuring low-felt recoil and low muzzle flip. There is no need to supply stock dimensions, Longthorne offers a personalised in-house fitting service during the manufacturing process, with more than 700 pieces of walnut stock wood to choose from.
