Explore, conquer and play in virtual reality at Zero Latency

THANKS TO ZERO LATENCY, the global leader in warehouse scale, free-roam, multiplayer virtual reality gaming, groups of up to eight people can now pit their skills against the zombie apocalypse, or killer robots and rogue drones. Families can also enjoy this award-winning, out of this world team-based problem-solving experience in VR.

and instinctive and it is fun to do with friends.” says John Lilley, CEO.

this weekend:

“We have made VR gaming a social experience accessible to everyone, from gamers to adrenaline seekers, corporate group events and especially families and friends looking to have fun together. Our team have revived social gaming in a fun and friendly way,” says Lilley.

Zero Latency offers a unique gameplay experience. Equipped with VR headsets, headphones, military-styled backpacks and a gun (for singularity and zombie survival games), players can move freely in an empty warehouse, but see virtually generated worlds in which the games take place.

“You will cover an average of 1.2km whilst playing, you will burn an average of 200 calories and it’s a fun workout.” says Lilley.

The Nottingham arena (MeetspaceVR, Intu Victoria Center, Nottingham, NG1 3QN) is open as of Friday, 19th October from 12pm to 10pm on weekdays and 10am to 10pm on weekends.

Tickets can be booked online from £19.95 per person: zlv.co.uk

Inspired for better things

YOU MIGHT NOT have heard of NUU Mobile yet, but they have been quietly expanding with success throughout US, Asia and now the UK and Europe, bringing consumers a better choice in affordable premium smartphones.

Nuu Mobile's latest smartphone, the NUU G2, launches today in partnership with Ideal World TV Shopping network.

Nolan Newman, NUU Mobile, said: "At NUU Mobile we feel strongly that consumers shouldn't have to sacrifice on design or features to accommodate their budgets. We know that there is a huge demand for smartphones that are not only feature packed but also look great, which is the ethos behind the G2."

The G2 has 64GB memory to manage all your storage needs, 4GB Ram and Octa-Core processor supporting 4K video. The Full HD Plus edge-to-edge 5.99" display is as cinematic experience as you can get in the palm of your hand and the immersive 18:9 ratio screen means the G2 is ideal for reading, watching or browsing.

Pro photographer or not, the G2 can capture moments with its 20MP+2MP dual camera with image stabilising technology. In addition a 13MP front selfie lens works with smart filters to make every picture Instagram perfect.

The 4,000 mAh battery with express charging also means you can enjoy your day and night without worrying about losing power when you need it. UK customers can expect the best service with NUU Mobile, all phones have a two year warranty with a
