Number one when it comes to reliability and value for money

HAVING RECENTLY BEEN voted number one in the 2018 What Car Reliability Survey, it is no surprise that Suzuki is one of the fastest-growing franchises in the country.

The brand came top overall for reliability for cars up to four years old, with the S-Cross achieving a perfect 100% score. As a result, Suzuki triumphed over popular car manufacturers such as Toyota, Hyundai and Ford and even the more prestigious marques such as Lexus, Audi and BMW.

The Suzuki range is well priced and offers a choice of great value, well-equipped cars. When it comes to engines, Suzuki's Boosterjet and Hybrid options offer a combination of outstanding ability and performance with great fuel economy.

Suzuki's entry-level Celerio is a city car which, whilst small, is surprisingly spacious and inexpensive, with a price tag of less than £7,000.

Next up is the Ignis, with its unique crossover appearance. Stylish and practical, the Ignis is great value for money and includes tonnes of essential equipment as standard.

Possibly the most recognisable model in the Suzuki range is the Swift. The popular and stylish supermini is affordable yet fun to drive, meaning it appeals to everyone from families to the young and old alike.

This leaves the Suzuki S-Cross and Vitara to take their place in the SUV market, both

First plug-in hybrid Range Rover and Range Rover Sport now at Kentdale

THE FUTURE IS HERE right now, with the introduction of Land Rover's first plug-in hybrids. The brand-new Range Rover PHEV and Range Rover Sport PHEV have now arrived at Kentdale Land Rover on Shap Road, Kendal.

PHEV is an acronym for Plug-In Hybrid Electric Vehicle, and these two luxurious Range Rover models will deliver up to 31 miles in electric-only mode. This is perfect for saving you money on shorter journeys and travelling around town.

On longer journeys, the dual power sources work together to produce truly impressive results. The innovative Ingenium 2.0-litre petrol engine in each model combines seamlessly with a high-torque electric motor, making these PHEVs a pleasure to drive.

Acceleration is brisk, with a 0-60mph time of 6.4 seconds (Range Rover) and 6.3 seconds (Range Rover Sport). Distinctive and refined, the sleek, flowing body lines are not affected, as integrating the charging point into the front grille provides easy connection without compromising the iconic design.

Call into our stunning new showroom in the Lake District to view the Range Rover PHEV and Range Rover Sport PHEV for yourself, and remember, a test-drive is yours for the taking without any obligation. Our friendly, informed members of staff will be pleased to answer any technical questions you may have.

Modern cars don't need tuning?

CRYPTON TUNING, back in the day, was the thing you did to ensure your car was at the top of its performance. Everything aligned and firing just at the right time, with perfectly balanced stoichiometric air and fuel ratios.

Supercars

Newer supercars are electronically controlled and frankly, could not benefit from a Crypton tune since engine performance is electronically managed, allowing your car to perform beautifully. However, the electronic engine management means the manufacturer can make one mechanical engine and separate it into several derivatives. Horse power, torque and litre capacity derivatives are software controlled. So, 2ltr and 4ltr engines are the same; the difference being the software.

Upgraded Software

So, if manufactures can switch performance settings, can you? In a word, yes. Viezu Technologies Ltd can upgrade your vehicle's software. You can get a modern-day Crypton tune, only this time, it's all done by using computers.

Performance Tuning

Viezu launched its 650bhp Jaguar F-Type Predator in 2016, receiving a great deal of attention. You may be interested to know, this car remains the world's fastest F-Type, having recently been upgraded further to 670bhp. Proving the point, you can change your car, without changing your car.

Supercar Super Performance

Viezu have 100+ installers of its software across the UK. It's Warwickshire head-office is regularly awakened with the roaring sound of vehicles having software upgrades.

It's not just Jaguars, any car is upgradeable!
