A clinically-tested way to reduce stress

ACCORDING TO STRESS.ORG, 77% of people experience stress. We know it can be a major factor in health conditions ranging in severity.

If your New Year's resolutions include decreasing the stress in your life, adding the OmegaBrite supplement to your diet can provide a fantastic boost to your new, less-pressured lifestyle.

According to studies by Ohio State University in 2011, OmegaBrite is clinically shown to reduce stress naturally, without the harmful or drug-life side effects you might experience from prescription and non-prescription drugs (and without any fishy aftertaste).

In double-blind, placebo-controlled clinical trials, Omegabrite reduced stress by as much as 20%. When it is combined with other activities that decrease anxiety, such as meditation, exercise, and diet, the benefits can be amazing. OmegaBrite is all natural and GMO free.

Each of our batches of Omegabrite is tested for purity by an independent third-party. These easy-to-swallow capsules contain a potent punch of Omega-3 with no aftertaste.

If reducing stress is on your list this New Year, give OmegaBrite a try risk-free via our website.

Prevalence rates in women between 15 and 64 years of age vary from 10% to 30%.

Dealing with debt in the New Year

IT'S A NEW YEAR and that means the fun is over, it's time to go back to work and, for many, time to face the reality of their finances. Dealing with debt is an important resolution, but it can be one that's really tough to tackle. So, where do you start?

Stretch your money further

Assess your current situation to make it as budget-friendly as possible, by cutting costs where you can. Bring lunches to work instead of buying them or walk instead of driving or taking public transport.

Save for financial emergencies

Unexpected costs, such as a broken boiler, can seriously affect you if you're unprepared. Make sure you are safe from the impact of a future financial emergency, by planning ahead and saving – "just in case".

Research your options

It's always a good idea to research the different debt solutions available. This should be your first step if you want to deal with debt seriously. Don't be afraid to speak to friends and family about it.

Ask for help

If you're unsure how to follow through on your financial resolution, don't worry! There are many debt solutions out there, and it can be tough deciding which one is right for you, or even how to start the process. We are here to help you! National Debt Expert works with some of the UK's leading debt partners and can offer you a debt solution to help you write off your unaffordable debt.

Garlic is good for you!

A VARIED DIET, exercise, fresh air and looking after your mental outlook can all contribute to keeping you healthy. Many people also like to take supplements to help support their diet and lifestyle. So where do plant stanols and sterols fit in with this?

Plant stanols and sterols are naturally occurring substances that are similar in structure to cholesterol but found in plants. Most fruits and vegetables will contain a small amount, though the highest levels are found in nuts, seeds and plant oils.

The most prevalent phytosterols in the diet are beta-sitosterol, campesterol and stigmasterol. During digestion, stanols and sterols can play a role in the absorption of dietary and biliary cholesterol through the small intestine.

What is allicin? Allicin is released when garlic is crushed or chopped. Stabilised allicin is a unique extract from fresh garlic that can be taken as a food supplement.

Lesterol is a unique combination of plant stanols and sterols and stabilised allicin. The easy-to-take vegetarian capsules can be used as part of a healthy diet and lifestyle. The plant stanols and sterols can contribute to the maintenance of normal blood cholesterol levels. Lesterol can be found in your local independent health food store.
