A gift in your will can make a difference

WHEN (MAJOR) BERNIE BROAD was blown up in an IED explosion in Afghanistan in 2009 he was left with life-changing physical injuries. Flown back to the UK where doctors fought to save his legs, nine months later they amputated his left leg, then three years later, he lost his right leg as well.

Bernie spent the next few years being treated at the Defence Medical Rehabilitation Centre, where he spent up to six weeks at a time. He and his wife stayed at SSAFA's Norton House, a home-from-home for injured serving personnel and their families.

Bernie explains. "The SSAFA staff are just so friendly, they don't see you as an injury or a problem. As the accommodation is free, my wife and family could stay nearby, so they could support me during my recovery. For me, SSAFA's Norton House became my home."

Some gifts have the power to change lives long after they've been given. A gift in your will could give veterans like Bernie, and his family, comfort and hope for the future. Request your free legacy pack today. Contact our legacy team at: ssafa.org.uk/legacypack

Cruise silently into retirement

GREENLINE YACHTS ARE leading the charge with electric/hybrid/solar-powered motor cruisers. Having developed silent running, emission-free boating some 10 years ago, their experience in the field means that you can now cruise silently in style, efficiently - and most importantly - reliably.

Greenline's use of solar power brings a unique set of benefits that no other boat in the market can offer today. You will never find yourself opening a warm bottle of wine or having to serve your friends cocktails without ice. Greenline Yachts offer 230V AC power onboard at all times, even without being plugged in at the marina or by running a generator.

The model range extends from the 33ft, 4-berth Greenline 33 to the impressive, ocean-ready, Greenline Oceanclass 65. The hybrid technology offers almost free cruising, even our diesel powered models use as little as 4 litres per hour at 6 knots! All of our models are available with electric/hybrid drive as well as more traditional diesel propulsion.

You can enjoy environmentally responsible, silent and relaxing cruising from as little as £199,000 including VAT. Clipper Marine are the UK distributors for Greenline Yachts. You can visit us at the Poole Harbour boat show in June or visit our website for full information.

Saving hard but been mis-sold your pension plan?

IF YOU HAVE EVER fretted about money you have lost as a result of bad pensions advice you must contact United Claims Management urgently as time limits may apply.

Many of our clients have been advised to transfer their pension fund to a Self Invested Personal Pension (SIPP), then to invest in unregulated assets such as overseas holiday accommodation, farmland and storage pods. Some of these 'investments' have been shown to be scams from the outset while others - suspected of being scams - have just drifted into oblivion. Either way, most of these 'too good to be true' investments have indeed been proven to be just that. A significant proportion of these claims have been awarded £50,000 (before our success fee of 15% and VAT).

Other clients have transferred their pension benefits away from 'top class' (final salary) company pension schemes with a previous employer to higher-risk personal pensions. They - or United Claims Management - discover that the eventual benefits from the personal pension are far lower than the benefits they would have enjoyed from the company pension scheme. Two of our three top pay-outs are from this category: one at £248,704 and the other at £280,800 (before our success fee of 15% and VAT).

Finally - although we deal with many other types of bad pensions advice - we have gained compensation for a lady who had been advised to pay into a personal pension rather than join her employer's pension scheme. This is almost always bad advice, and this award completes our 'top three' with a lump sum compensation of £257,908 (before our success fee and VAT).

We welcome prospective clients with a no-obligation exploratory chat - typically between five and ten minutes - with one of our claims consultants.
