Your favourite ritual, but plastic free 2

Percol's revolutionary packaging is made from sustainably sourced materials

Most of us love our morning cup of coffee but how environmentally friendly is the packaging of your favourite beans?

The UK produces a staggering 100 million non-recyclable packs of ground and beans coffee every year, all of which end up being incinerated or being sent to landfill sites.

But now, Percol Coffee is attempting to address this huge issue with its plastic free, home compostable packaging; the first of its kind in the world for coffee.

This revolutionary packaging is made from sustainably sourced materials like paper and plant fibres, ensuring it will break down in your garden compost bin in less than 26 weeks.

Once it has broken down you can use it in the garden to improve the quality of your soil so it's a brilliant win win, giving UK coffee lovers a sustainable way to enjoy their cup of Joe.

Percol is available in Tesco, Waitrose, Sainsbury's and all other major supermarkets
